VERDUN BATTLE IS SLACKENING

Artillery Duels Appear to Be Only Activity.

INFANTRY ATTACKS CEASE

London Observers Believe Germans Are Moving Forward Heavy Guns for the Purpose of Shelling Other French Positions Before Making a General Assault.

London, March 2.—The Germans in the battle scarred region of Verdun continue their bombardments west of the Meuse in the region between Malancourt and Forges across the river eastward about Vaux and Dam Loup and against French trenches in the Woëvre region, southeast of Verdun.

Their big offensive, however, so far as infantry attacks are concerned, has ceased, at least for the moment.

Whether it will begin again or whether the Germans will rest content with the points of vantage they have gained is not indicated in the official reports of either Berlin or Paris.

Unofficial advices from Berlin have stated that the German plan of campaign has been primarily based on the bombardment of sectors they desire to attain.

It is possible that they may now be drawing up their big guns to captured positions, with the objective of shelling points nearer their objective—Verdun.

To the east of Verdun around Pont-a-Mousson the French have bombarded German positions heavily in Le Petre wood and near Thiécourt.

Artillery duels have been in progress in Alsace. There has been no resumption of German attacks against the French in the Champagne region.

NATIONAL SAVINGS URGED ON BRITISH

London, March 2.—A great meeting was held in the Guild hall here to inaugurate a national savings campaign. The lord mayor presided and the speakers included Earl Kitchener, secretary of state for war; A. J. Balfour, first lord of the admiralty; Reginald McKenna, chancellor of the exchequer, and A. Bonar Law, secretary for the colonies.

Lord Kitchener said: "We want just as many men as we can get as soldiers. We are bound to take all the men that can possibly be spared from industry, agriculture and commerce. "We cannot produce all our ordinary peace time requirements. Either the population must go short of many things, or the army must go short of munitions and other indispensable things. "Are civilians prepared to let their brothers in the trenches endure hardships while they are not ready to make small sacrifices of harder work, increased efforts and increased economy?"

Bigger Guns Predicted. Berlin, March 2.—Artillery so large and powerful that it will be possible to bombard England from the continent is the certain product of the near future, according to Professor Fritz Rausenberger, codirector of the Krupp works and inventor of the famous 42-centimeter guns, in an interview with the correspondent of the Tageblatt.

Australia to Assist Soldiers. Sydney, March 2.—The New South Wales government has approved a comprehensive scheme for settling returned soldiers on land. Steps have been taken to survey suitable crown lands and proposals have been made to make advances to each settler up to £500 for improvements and the purchase of stock and farming implements.

Kaiser Quits Verdun Front. London, March 2.—The German emperor left the Verdun front and returned to Germany Tuesday, according to a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Mail.

BILLARD PAYS BACK PROFITS

Suit Brought by New Haven Railroad Settled Out of Court.

New York, March 2.—The suit brought by the present administration of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad to recover from John L. Billard of Meriden, Conn. profits alleged to have been due the New Haven in the deal in which the New Haven purchased shares of Boston and Maine stock seven years ago has been settled, it was announced at the New Haven offices. Billard paid the New Haven $1,250,000.

IRISHMEN DENOUNCE ANTI-BRITISH MEETING

New York, March 2.—Denouncing as "a violent attack on American neutrality" a proposed anti-British demonstration of Irishmen to be held here March 4 and 5 the executive committee of the American-Irish societies which includes the Ancient Order of Hibernians and the United Irish League of America, adopted resolutions "to set the race right with the people of the United States."

The resolutions asserted that the Irish in Ireland are better judges of their rights, policies and duties than "any number of professional Irishmen in America, or descendants of exiled Irishmen in America whose sole idea on the Irish question is the legacy of hate inherited from the days of oppression."

"The Irishmen in Ireland are not contract breakers," the resolutions continue. "Now that home rule is granted them they are keeping their part of the contract. They have sent 142,000 of their sons voluntarily to the front and are adding to that force at the rate of 1,000 a week. "The Irish in Ireland will not soon forget the fate of Belgium."

GREY ISSUES A STATEMENT

British Foreign Minister Comments on Germany's Course.

London, March 2.—Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, authorized for publication the following statement:

"The assumption apparently made by the German government that all British merchant ships employed in trade between the United States of America and the United Kingdom have hitherto been unarmed."

"The claim, therefore, made by the German government to sink all British merchant ships at sight because of their armament is one which cannot possibly be justified. This is clearly proved by the statement issued giving a list of British and neutral unarmed merchant ships which have been torpedoed by German submarines without warning."

VODKA BAN COSTS $340,000

Russian Budget for 1916 Shows $5,500,000 as War Expense.

Petrograd, March 2.—The budget presented to the duma shows an ordinary estimated revenue of 3,022,049,218 rubles, an estimated ordinary expenditure of 3,323,463,698 rubles, the excess of expenditure being 210,414,280. War expense, which is not included in the budget, may exceed the ordinary expenditure two or three times.

The most important decrease in the estimated revenue is in that from alcoholic drinks, which figured only 9,000,000 rubles as compared with 689,000,000 in 1914, or a decline of approximately $340,000,000.

The extraordinary expenses during the war amounted to 8,000,000,000 rubles in 1915 and are expected to reach 11,000,000,000 or $5,500,000,000 in 1916, if the war lasts the entire year.

Think Wilson Will Win His Point

(By United Press)
Washington, March 2.—President Wilson will not attempt to make a further decided move to get a congressional show down on armed merchantmen affairs, but instead is applying the watchful waiting process to Congress. The belief of the country is that he will bring Congress around. The administration is not attempting to conceal the anxiety they feel.

Conflict Breaks Out in Senate

(By United Press)
Washington, March 2.—The congressional-presidential conflict broke out in the Senate this afternoon when Senator Stone interrupted the discussion of the Shields Bill to make a statement on the Gore resolution. ## French Guns at Verdun; Map of German Advance

The French line north of Verdun at the beginning of the present German offensive ran from the Meuse, at a point north of Consenvoye, in a semi-circle into the woods to the northeast and turned southward well north of Beaumont, continuing to the southeast, north of Ornes, to Fromez and Etain.

Four days of continuous fighting with heavy losses have given the Germans Consenvoye, Brabant-sur-Meuse, Haumont and Samogneux on the western end of the salient, and Ornes further east. Beaumont, half way between Samogneux and Ornes, still resists the German assault.

REISER GIVEN LONG TERM Judge Says Verdict Should Have Been First Degree Murder.

Bozeman, Mont., March 2.—Joseph Reiser, convicted of murder in the second degree, was sentenced to a term of not less than forty years or more than fifty in the state penitentiary at Deer Lodge. His victim, Joseph Fink, was found Dec. 24, mutilated and dead in the cellar of a lonely cabin near Bozeman.

In pronouncing sentence the judge told Reiser that he should have been found guilty of first degree murder, because the condition of Fink's body, his own flight to Dickinson, N. D., and his attempt to cash a certificate of deposit for $240 which he had taken from the body of Fink, had convinced the court that Reiser's motive in committing the crime was robbery.

Reiser showed no emotion when sentence was pronounced, but maintained that he fought Fink in self-defense.

KILLS NEIGHBOR WITH RIFLE

Rancher Asserts He Shot Because He Feared Attack.

Deadwood, S. D., March 2.—Believing that Matt Anderson, a neighbor, intended to harm him, William N. Berry, an old time resident near here, from his ranch house door, shot and killed Anderson with a rifle as the latter approached the Berry home.

Berry then walked in subzero weather to Deadwood, hired an attorney and gave himself up.

Berry asserts he believes Anderson killed a fellow Finn near there several years ago. In a quarrel some weeks ago he made the charge and warned Anderson not to visit his ranch.

DR. ANGELL NEAR DEATH

WILSON SERVES SECOND NOTICE

Tells Leaders Compromise Resolution Will Not Do.

INSISTS UPON RECORD VOTE

President Wants Congress to Approve or Disapprove His Foreign Policy and Declares That a Vote of Confidence Alone Will Not Be Acceptable.

Washington, March 2.—President Wilson's request that congress approve or disapprove his foreign policy has brought on a deadlock, while the Democratic leaders have conferred and sought for some proposals which would satisfy the president and still save their positions.

The president served notice on congress that he will consent to nothing less than a record vote on the anti-administration resolutions to warn Americans off the armed ships of European belligerents before he goes on with the German submarine negotiations.

No compromise proposition, such as a vote of confidence in the president's foreign policy, will be acceptable. Such an action, it is held, might be construed in Berlin as justifying the opinion that the president lacks the support of congress and his own party in his demands for a full observance of international law, while its only purpose would be to afford members of congress a way to avoid recording their positions before the country on the straight, out and out question.

Makes His Position Clear.

President Wilson made his position clear to congressional leaders in unequivocal terms, as the climax to a day of confusion, uncertainty and political maneuvering that marked the opening of his first real fight with congress.

Meanwhile, the pending Lusitania agreement will not be finally accepted. Many attempts were made by Democratic leaders to get together and decide upon some definite program, but all these efforts failed and the house leaders decided to send Chairman Flood of the foreign affairs committee to the White House to see if a more definite understanding with the president could be reached.

At a meeting of this house committee on foreign affairs an attempt was made to yield to the president's suggestion and report out the McLeMORE resolution, warning Americans off armed ships. This attempt was howled down in the committee and the incident disclosed the fact that only four of the sixteen members who were present seemed disposed to stand by the president's wishes.

The Republican vote in congress is a factor that is causing the administration some concern. It is realized that the Republicans will not consent to support a compromise resolution of the general character proposed by the Democrats expressing confidence in the president.

PROVENCE SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINE

Paris, March 2.—A German submarine torpedoed and sank the French auxiliary cruiser Provence in the Mediterranean Saturday with a loss of life now estimated at between 900 and 1,100, the ministry of marine announced.

An official statement made known the fact that the Provence was a submarine victim and at the same time established the identity of the attacking craft.

Though an official statement Tuesday reported about 800 of the 1,800 persons aboard the Provence saved, the latest dispatch accounted for only 656 survivors landed at Malta and Melos.

It is believed possible, however, that other survivors were picked up by Greek fishing craft in the vicinity and are being taken into Greek ports.

TWO DIE IN TRAIN WRECK

Snowslide Buries Passenger in Colorado Canyon.

Pueblo, Colo., March 2.—A Denver and Rio Grande train was wrecked by a snowslide in Black canyon, near Sapinero, according to a report received here. Two persons are reported killed.

A number of the passengers were injured, according to the report. The survivors are said to be snowbound at the entrance of Black canyon, five miles east of Sapinero.

An Inconsistency.

There is a strange inconsistency in "Hamlet." It is where Hamlet speaks of "the undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveler returns," and yet the play hinges largely upon the fact that he has had interviews with his father's ghost, who had, of course, come back from the undiscovered country.

WOMAN'S REALM

LIBRARIES OF STATE CO-OPERATE

"Baby Welfare" Week to Have no
End of Appropriate Literature
on the Subject

STATE LIBRARY COMMISSION

Will Supply Local Committees with Packet Libraries, Arrangements
as Suggested

The free press service of the Minnesota Public Health Association, old capitol, St. Paul, sends this timely notice to the Dispatch and it is published in full:

All the libraries of the state plan to cooperate in the Baby Week campaign. Most of them have an up-to-date supply of books on "The Care of the Baby," "Mothercraft," "Parental Care," etc. Miss Clara F. Baldwin of the State Library Commission says that many libraries have also procured health playlets and exhibit material. If you cannot be supplied from a local library, material may be furnished by writing the State Library Commission, from whom Packet Libraries on baby welfare and communicable disease of childhood may also be obtained.

It is suggested that each city if possible secure the services of some speaker who can present the various phases of baby welfare to one or more gatherings that may be arranged. These gatherings should be as large as possible and perhaps it would be well to hold them at night so that the men as well as the women could attend. The local health officer, the local medical society or the local nurses could be called upon.

Speakers may be obtained from the Minnesota Public Health Association, but this should not be counted on as it is likely the demand may exceed the supply. No doubt someone could be selected from the membership of each local club to prepare and read papers on milk, contagious diseases of childhood, infant hygiene, feeding of infant, clothing for infants and the like.

An investigation and report should be made upon the conditions of the local milk supply, birth registration and infant mortality of your community. You might discuss to advantage the supervision of your schools, the activities of your Associated Charities or of your Public Health association. The school perhaps in most communities is the best place to hold a program. Most school libraries contain much literature that would be useful. Many schools of the state plan on putting on health playlets. This would lend variety to the program and insure a good audience.

HAMLET LAKE

Miss Ida Highfield is at Deerwood staying at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. J. Rathvon.

Miss Myrtle Swanson has returned from a visit at Doris.

A large party of young people from here and Deerwood enjoyed a sleigh ride to Doris. A lunch was served at the Doris church and a good program was given. The weather was nice and all report a good time.

Prayer meeting at Skau's last week was quite well attended but we would like to see more of the old folks come out to these meetings, and let us try to make them even more interesting.

The people of this vicinity seem to have all kinds of trouble with their horses. Mrs. C. M. Peterson had the misfortune of losing her large bay horse. Pete Swanson's old Mike is also dead and Pete has now purchased a horse from Louis Alberts. Last Sunday morning when Louis Carlson came to his barn he found his black horse dead.

Albert Nelson's horse became paralyzed in one leg last week while hauling logs to Tenneson's saw mill. The horse was taken to Gus Highfield's where he is now rapidly improving under the good care of Pete. Veterinarian Nelson of Brainerd was also called out. This ends the sad history of our horses.
BINGO.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

BRAINERD SAW NO AIRSHIPS

Possesses Proud Distinction of Being Only Town in Northwest Which Did Not See Things

SUPERIOR GREATLY EXCITED

Duluth in Spasm of Terror, Bemidji Saw Something Rush By, Also Ashland, Wis.

Braingerd, located in dry Indian country, boasts of the proud distinction of being the only town in the Northwest which has not seen airships, aeroplanes, Zeppelins, turkeys with their bonnets on, snakes and other things.

All Duluth was scared to death with column stories on the front page of the Duluth Herald and Duluth News Tribune about the airship circling over the ore docks. The Superior Telegram also burst out on the front page with a blood curdling story of the maneuvers of an airship vouched for by a list of prominent citizens. These towns, by the way, are so constituted that no one can deny that they can see more things than Braingerd can, being artificially stimulated or otherwise.

The United Press threw a spasm or two and even had the date set for the explosion of the ore docks and steel plant. Nothing went up. Instead a bunch of colored paper balloons came down to earth and wrecked the big airship story.

THE ORCHESTRAL MUSIC

Accompanying "Battle Cry of Peace" was Noteworthy, Edwin Harris Bergh Conductor

Contributing to the effect produced by the "Battle Cry of Peace" pictures was the orchestral music. The seven piece orchestra was directed by Edwin Harris Bergh. The public would greatly appreciate another picture accompanied by such music, even if advanced prices were necessary.

The musicians playing were Edwin Harris Bergh, violin, Julius Witham, second violin, Wm. Rodenkirchen, cello, Wm. Graham, cornet, James McPherson, clarinet, Miss Frances Quinn, piano and George Putz, drums. The score contained music by Schubert, Brahms, Gabriel-Marie, Wagner, Gounod, and hosts of minor composers. The music was compiled and arranged suitably for use with the pictures by Rothephal, formerly of the Strand, New York and who when "The Battle Cry of Peace" was first produced in New York directed an orchestra of 40 pieces with the identical music heard here.

BRAINERD RECORD WAS A BAD ONE

Chief of Police Henry Squires in an interview with the Dispatch says that the Mrs. Eugene Davidson referred to in the United Press telegram printed below was formerly Lillie Landray, and that both she and her husband have police records, that she served 30 days in the county jail on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, and that the pair were finally ordered out of town.

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, March 2.—Lured by stories of gay city life, a little country girl was induced to leave her country home at Braingerd and brought here where she was forced by her husband to live a life of shame. She is Mrs. Eugene Davidson, and was married at Braingerd about two years ago. She is about 21 years old. Her husband has been given a 90 day workhouse sentence and she has been sent to her mother in Braingerd.

The woman claims her husband met her at 10 o'clock each evening and took all the money she had, "and the only thing he brought me since we were married was a pair of shoes," she said. Continuing the story she said her husband was protected by some one. She said that many girls under age were in the cafes, and none in worst places were arrested. Continuing she said "My own case is only like hundreds of others, my husband took all my money." She cried as she told of her husband going to her father's home in Braingerd and breaking his, her father's arm. She also told of his nearly cutting her little sister's eye out by breaking a window at the Braingerd home.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORY OF TODAY

When W. H. Onstine was running for assessor, Deputy Sheriff John D. Gile was so sure he would be elected, that when a doubtful Braingerd man accosted John and asked him if he thought Onstine would win out, Gile said:

"Why, I got $500 in the bank that I'd be willing to bet that Onstine wins," said John D. Gile.

Mr. Onstine won and later taxed Gile's $500 in the bank in the money and credits column.

LINDBERGH WRITES STATES POSITION

Congressman From Sixth District Makes Plain His Stand Regarding Indian Liquor Treaty

SUGGESTS REMEDY BY ELECTION

Says His Stand on the Question Has Been Misquoted by the Subsidized Trust Papers

Hon. C. A. Lindbergh has written J. J. Opsahl, of Bemidji, the following stand on the 1855 Indian treaty which will be read with interest at this time:

"In reply to your letter, in which you quote what the press reported of my stand on the 1855 treaty, my answer is that if the press had reported all that I said and my position on the saloon problem, which has been published all over the state, you would see that we agree in every practical sense upon this problem. Take the Duluth News-Tribune for example. It first falsely reported what I stand for, and then, on the basis of what I said I stood for, attacked me with a scurrilous article. You probably know the value of this kind of article in the interest of the steel trust, which accounts for the attack. All the trusts and, of course, their agents, are opposed to me. The steel trust, however, is right upon temperance, but is so for selfish reasons. It knows, as we do, that drunkenness destroys efficiency and that saloons add to government expense immensely more than their license fee pays back, and the steel trust, in places where they operate, pay most of the taxes. For these two reasons they employ detectives and contribute large sums of money to prevent the traffic of liquor. Whatever their motive, in this case they are right, and this work benefits us all. It makes no difference to the steel trust, however, that I stand for temperance, because I am opposed to their special privilege on which they fleece the people out of billions of dollars, and since that is their real purpose of existence, you can depend on it that all special interest papers in the big cities and elsewhere will misrepresent me. They have done so ever since I began my fight against them in congress. For some reason they fear that I will run for the senate, so, anticipating that, they start all of their papers to lambasting me. I did not expect to worry them with my candidacy this year, but when I do voluntarily retire from the field, it will not be at a time when I am under fire from these papers."

I believe in the state governing its own affairs. I do not believe in the necessity of an outside power, the federal government, coming in and doing what we ourselves should do. If, however, the state officials are derelict in their duties, and permit conditions to exist in violation of a federal treaty, then there is excuse for federal action. Our state officials failed and shameful conditions grew up in certain sections of the state, not only in the treaty sections, but in many others as well. In the treaty territory the federal government had jurisdiction and because the state authorities have failed to do their duty, it became necessary for the federal government to act. The dignity of the state should be maintained without federal interference, but if that is not done the federal supervision will continue. The most practical way to get rid of federal supervision in the state is for the state to do its duty. Let every county where the 1855 treaty applies hold an election under the state county option law and vote out the saloon business. Then enforce the law. If that is done, by stopping bootlegging and other crimes, the federal authorities would no longer find it necessary to act. Then if the people wish the treaty repealed, the ground would be cleared for it, but if proper state laws are enforced, the treaty would never be thought of. I made a mistake in my letter, for which the press would be justified in criticizing me. My letter was dictated hurriedly in response to two telegrams. The mistake was in not making my position as to "repeal" quite clear. I should have used the word "modify," instead of "repeal," for the treaty was in effect a contract, and adopted before Minnesota became a state, and when the state was admitted it was subject to the treaty with the power in congress to repeal. Congress cannot be expected to repeal what amounts to a contract until the state carries out the provisions of the contract. No bill should ever be offered that would so modify the treaty as to admit saloons or the manufacture of liquor in the treaty territory. I am opposed to the saloon business everywhere and was elected with that understanding. Sincerely, C. A. LINDBERGH.

Dangers of Draft

Drafts feel best when we are hot and perspiring, just when they are most dangerous and the result is Neuralgia, Stiff Neck, Sore Muscles or sometimes an attack of rheumatism. In such cases apply Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the sore and painful part. The blood flows freely and in a short time the stiffness and pain leaves. Those suffering from Neuralgia or Neuralgic Headache will find one or two applications of Sloan's Liniment will give grateful relief. The agonizing pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth and quiet rest and sleep is possible. Good for Neuritis too. Price 25c at your druggist.—Adv.

TABLE FOR FLY FISHING

O. H. Johnson, Proprietor of the Ransford Hotel, Writes of This Prime Necessity

WEIGHT OF THE LINE COUNTS

Table of Line Sizes Given for the Guidance of Fishermen, Tapered Lines Used by Many

In the series of articles written for the Dispatch by O. H. Johnson, of the Ransford hotel, many phases of fishing have been taken up. The present story deals with "Lines for Fly Fishing." The writer says:

"Of course, this means enameled lines. Remember that in fly casting it is the weight of the line that counts—a light rod will not handle well a line that is too heavy and if the line is too light, it will not work at all. It should be heavy enough to put a good spring in the rod. A heavy line is easier to cast than a light one. Be careful about this and try to get it right in the first place. The table below will be found an excellent guide for lance wood and split bamboo rods but the steel rods require lines two sizes larger for the same length of rod. You cannot go by the weight in steel rods."

Table of line sizes:
Kingfisher sizes are about the standard.

1 oz. rod, if still, size E, Rubber G
5 oz. rod, if still, size E, Rubber F
6 oz. rod, if still, size D, Rubber H
7 oz. rod, if still, size C, Rubber D
Tapered lines are used by many expert casters, but the regular or level lines are really better for all-around use as they cast easier and wear longer. The strength of an enameled line seldom matters—few fly rods will pull more than 2 pounds or so, and any enameled line has many times that strength. Be careful to keep lead out of the reel for a grain or two between the coils will soon destroy the line. Lines should never be left on the reel when hot in use, but kept on a line dryer, so that the air can get to them, and they will not rot. They should never be used in freezing weather or left in a hot place—it ruins them.

Don't leave enameled lines exposed to direct sunlight for any length of time. It is apt to soften the enamel and make them sticky.

HOW TO CULTIVATE THRIFT

First learn to distinguish between luxuries and necessities. You do not need all you think you need, and certainly not all you buy. You want things because you see them—that is what shop windows are for. See and learn to know good value. Learn where and when and how to buy. Learn to know good meat from bad, nourishing from the worthless. Learn to judge clothing and shoes and buy good material—it pays in the end. Third, keep track of your expenses. Know how much it costs you to live, and how much you spend on various items of the household. Limit your "pleasure money" and choose wholesome pleasures. If you like the theatre, learn where to see the good plays at reasonable prices, and go consistently.

25 CENTS DESTROYS YOUR DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR

Save Your Hair! Make it Thick, Wavy and Beautiful—Try This! This, brittle, coloring and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Dandruff tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair. Get a 25-cent bottle of Klorox's Dandruff from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.—Adv.

BAY LAKE NEWS

Mrs. Ed. Bath and little son are visiting with Mrs. Lukenhill this week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Hall returned from a very pleasant trip to the most interesting points in the eastern states Thursday.

The Stitch & Study Circle met with Marjorie Smith last Thursday. Only four members were present, as this has been an exceptionally busy week for everyone, but they had a small comforter and had a very pleasant chat during lunch. The next meeting is with Katherine Simon, March 9th.

Members Harold and Calvin Smith came Friday from Minneapolis, the former has been visiting in the city and the latter is now visiting relatives at Bay Lake.

The Bay Lake Rural Progressive club met Saturday with the largest attendance yet had. The hall was beautifully and patriotically decorated with bunting, pictures, etc. One hundred fifty were served with a sumptuous dinner and each was presented with a hand-painted hatchet on which was printed the menu. A song drill by nine young ladies was a delightful and patriotic feature of the program. Miss Maybell Orr recited a Suffragette poem and the singing of Prof. Svenson and Miss Marie Archibald was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Archibald read a paper on home making. The different committees reported on dairying, telephones, roads, Mr. Downey, our good roads booster, delivered a good speech on the same. L. P. Hall invited the children of over two years and under sixteen to meet at his home one evening this week to organize and elect officers for a Bird Club. The club adjourned to meet again the fourth Saturday in March and we cordially invite everyone to attend.

Only a few were present at church Sunday but all enjoyed Rev. Roger's splendid sermon on the life of John the Baptist. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Orr went to Minneapolis Sunday, where Mrs. Orr will spend a few weeks before going to Montana. Mr. Orr returned Tuesday morning.

David Archibald left Monday for the Battle Mountain Sanitarium at Hot Springs, S. D., where he will take treatments for sciatic rheumatism which has caused him much suffering this winter. Our best wishes are with him.

Earl and Marie Archibald came home Saturday. Miss Marie returned to Nokas Lake Sunday but Earl is to spend a few days at home.

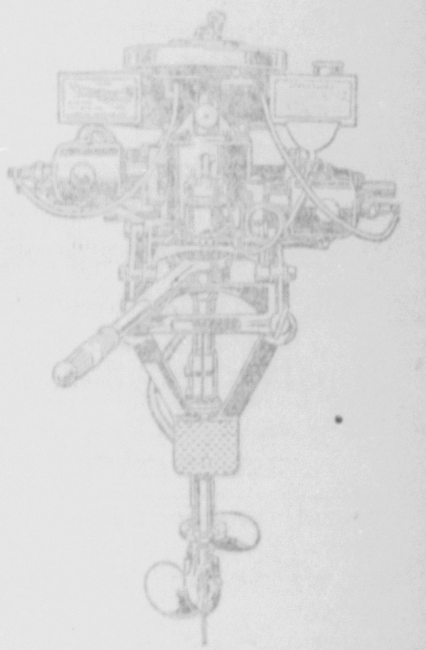

A few of the young people enjoyed an informal dance at the home of Katherine Simon's Saturday evening. Marshmallows were toasted and a dainty lunch served.

GLYNN ANSWERS ROOT'S SPEECH

Former New York Governor Defends Administration.

PRaises Democratic Party

Speaker at State Conference at Syracuse, N. Y., Takes Former Senator Elihu Root to Task for His Speeches
in the Senate and Acts as Secretary of State.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 2.—Former Governor Martin H. Glynn, at the Democratic state conference here,
gave his party's answer to the speech
of former United States Senator Elihu Root before the Republican state conference in New York several weeks ago.

Taking up Mr. Root's charges against the present national administration he answered each point.

He also took Mr. Root to task for his speeches in the United States senate and for his acts as secretary of state of the United States.

"Four years ago," he said, "this nation committed its care and welfare to the Democratic party and the Democratic party has been true to its trust. It has preserved peace, observed international law and followed the traditions of the fathers of the country."

Mr. Glynn charged that Mr. Root as senator opposed the passage of the federal reserve act.

"This law," continued Mr. Glynn,
"is one of the greatest achievements
of the administrations in the last fifty years."

This legislative act, former Governor Glynn said, saved the country from a panic when the European war broke out.

The Underwood tariff law "has stimulated American industry," the former governor declared, and he blamed
the foreign war for the decline in imports.

Taking Root Severely to Task.

Denying that Mr. Root was "the keeper of national honor," Mr. Glynn added: "For years Mr. Root has been the star performer at peace conferences and yet he condemns President Wilson for maintaining peace."

"For years," continued the speaker, "Mr. Root has been acclaimed an apostle of peace and in 1912 was awarded the Nobel prize for the promotion of peace, but now he sallies forth as a drum and trumpet statesman."

"From a cooling dove of peace Mr.
Root suddenly transforms himself into a swooping hawk of war."

"In his foreign policy the president,
Mr. Glynn said, is following the example of Washington, John Adams, Jefferson, Lincoln and Grant."

"The president," he declared, "has only shaken his finger. When he has to shake his fist the world will find it mailed."

"The efforts of politicians like Mr.
Root to make political capital out of the course which President Wilson deems it wise for this nation to follow in respect to Belgium during the early stages of the present war deserve,
and will receive, unqualified condemnation and rebuke at the hands of the most right thinking and patriotic Americans."

Turning to the Lusitania case the chairman said that Mr. Root ignores what has been accomplished and the assurances for the future.

NOT RIDICULED BY PRESS

Britons Take New German Submarine
Policy Seriously.

London, March 2.—With regard to the German submarine campaign newspaper editorials point out that, while it involves no new principle, the Germans are unlikely to have made the announcement with such wide publicity unless they believe that they will be able to make a wholesale onslaught on shipping.

The new threat, accordingly, is not made the subject of ridicule and it is suggested that Germany in all probability has been producing new and more powerful submarines.

The editorials, however, agree in declaring that an optimistic spirit should be felt and that every confidence should be placed in the power of the British navy to cope with any new developments at sea.

tains north of town.

A posse pursued, but the woman
and her companion escaped.

Leaves New York With Two Guns
Mounted on Deck.

New York, March 2.—The Italian steamship Giuseppe Verdi, the first armed vessel to leave American shores since the new Austro-German submarine policy went into effect, sailed from here for Naples and Genoa.

It carried among its 173 passengers
two Italian born American citizens.
The Verdi had mounted on its deck two naval guns with which it was equipped two months ago. Before sailing copper air tanks were fitted into its lifeboats.

The Dead in India.

Three distinct methods of disposing of the dead are in vogue in India.
While the Mohammedans inter the dead, the Hindus prefer to throw the bodies into the purifying waters of the Ganges, and even now there are constant infractions of the severe regulations framed to suppress this dangerous practice. The form of funeral adopted by the Parsees is that of simply exposing their dead at a great altitude to the scavenging services of crows and vultures.

anything at home; mother's the real executive.—Boston Transcript.

DEFENSE PROGRESS MADE

Army Bill to Come Before House and Senate Next Week.

Washington, March 2.—National defense legislation has made such rapid progress in committee that it was predicted the army part of the preparedness program would be before the house and senate next week.

The house military committee began its final review of the measure tentatively agreed upon, but it will require several days for Chairman Hay to prepare a report to accompany the bill.

By agreeing to insert only a general provision for federalizing the national guard in its regular army reorganization bill, leaving the task of putting this legislation in final shape to a joint conference committee, the senate military committee has made it possible to bring the measure out next week.

ULTIMATUM MAY END CONTROVERSY

Little Likelihood of War, Though
Air Is Full of Crises.

WILSON'S TILT WITH HOUSE

Some Leaders in Congress Determined to Warn Americans to Keep Off
the Armed Belligerent Merchantmen.
There Is No Desire In This Country
For a War With Any Nation.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 2.—[Special.]— How often can a crisis occur over the same general subject? That is a question often asked these days when there is one crisis after another in the relations of the United States and Germany in regard to submarines.

Enough of them have occurred to create an ultimatum, which is about the last thing in diplomacy. As Touchstone said, as long as one could avoid the lie direct a real encounter
could be avoided.

As long as there is no ultimatum
there may be peace. Crisis after crisis may impend and pass along. In fact, that has happened ever since the Lusitania affair, but the diplomats have avoided the ultimatum and maintained peace.

Transferring the Crisis.

And after about the second score of crises with Germany we suddenly had the crisis transferred to closer limits, distance one and one-quarter
miles between the conversationalists.
The president in the White House and the Democratic leaders in congress were at each end of the crisis. It must be said that when they brought a crisis right down in our midst it made a lot of talk, and we had more respect for the crisis than before.

The important feature of the transfer was the anti-war spirit that was manifested among members of congress. As people read of the horrors in the trenches there is no great desire to have our young men become a part of the slaughtered and maimed.

Probably that accounts for the demand that Americans keep off armed belligerent ships.

Was Good Buffer.

While there was such a tense situation between the president and the majority in congress the old water power bill served as a fine buffer in the senate. All that was necessary to do was to keep that bill steadily before the senate and let senators talk on it.
"Good old bill," remarked one man.
"It is bound to have a stormy time,
perhaps it will never pass the house,
and even if it does it runs the risk of a veto, but it served a purpose in this crisis."

It Surprised Williams.

Senator Nelson of Minnesota had delivered some sledge hammer blows
upon conservation and some of the ultra conservationists. His remarks brought Senator Williams to his feet.
"I agree with everything," upon the whole, which has been said. By the way, it seems a strange fatality that a Mississippian and a Norwegian should agree with one another."

It is too bad John Sharp did not pursue that idea a little further. It would have been interesting to know why a Norwegian and a Mississippian should not agree with each other or why there was anything strange in such an agreement.

As to Wasting Time.

Minority Leader Mann complained bitterly because the Democrats devoted a day to claims instead of considering more important legislation.

"Since I have been here you have wasted more time than any one," remarked Cyclone Davis.
"I may have wasted time," responded Mann. "I have talked more than the gentleman from Texas, but I have not wasted nearly as much time as he did, for all the time that he was talking to the house was pure waste."

Bennet's Honors.

"Several years ago," remarked Congressman Bennet of New York, "I secured the adoption of an amendment to a bill and ever since it has been called the Bennet amendment. It is the only thing I ever had called after me except a five cent cigar."

Sisson Comes to Bat.

For several years it was Macon of Georgia who made points of order in appropriation bills and made a record for economy. He was followed by Fowler of Illinois. Both of these economists disappeared in turn, and then came Sisson of Mississippi. He becomes the watchdog of the treasury and makes trouble for managers of appropriation bills which increase salaries. It is not a pleasant occupation and lacks the merit of effectiveness,
save for the reputation it gives a member as a man favoring strict economy.

Fondness For Minnesota.

Oscar Underwood has a great fondness for Minnesota, where he once lived and came near making his home.
He took occasion to attend the ceremonies when Minnesota presented the statue of former Senator Rice and spoke on the senate of the state which so nearly claimed him.

SECONDHAND GLASS.

Interesting Methods of a Business That Is Quite Extensive.

The salvage glass industry is of such importance and extent that many dealers in secondhand glass specialize in one branch or another. Some, for instance, handle only plate glass that comes to them by reason of the demolition of old buildings, razed to make place for new structures. Salvage glass of this sort brings prices not far below
those of new glass.

A considerable quantity of the salvage glass dealer's stock emanates from the plate glass insurance companies. The methods of these companies in taking over glass vary. One concern may keep no stock on hand, simply buying whatever is required to replace a broken pane, disposing of the broken glass, if enough remains to be sold, to the salvage dealer. Sometimes a company will have a warehouse of its own, to which it will remove broken glass that may still be in condition to use. Frequently it will happen that only one corner has been broken from a large pane and that this may be cut down to fit a smaller window.

Most plate glass is insured, but there is much that is not. In the case of an uninsured plate that is broken the owner must, of course, go to a dealer for a new plate. He will sell the broken plate to the salvage dealer. It follows therefore that from insurance companies, from building wreckers and from owners of uninsured glass the salvage glass dealer accumulates great quantities of secondhand plate glass.
Much of this is in such a condition that it may be reset anywhere. Should the hijury consist, for instance, of simply a deep scratch in the center it is easy to make that plate salable. The secondhand dealer cuts out a strip containing the scratch and thus have left two smaller plates, quite suitable for smaller windows.

When injured plate glass is too much scratched to be available for windows
it is sometimes made into ground or frosted glass for office partitions or doors. Salvage plate glass too small for use in windows is employed for the glass doors of refrigerators, and larger pieces are utilized in the making of glass table tops. Small fragments go to the making of hand mirrors, although only clear pieces may be so employed. Other pieces, too small for other purposes, enter into the manufacture of glass signs.

Eventually, when the last piece of merchantable glass has been cut from the damaged piece, there remain the scraps and fragments accumulated in the cutting. Even these have their uses, although they do not bring much.
They are melted and used in the manufacture of bottles.—Washington Star.

Men Who Fear Opportunity.

In the American Magazine Hugh S.

Fullerton says:
"Thousands of us who are making fairly comfortable livings for families pass plain turning points, refusing to turn or to attack the opening, through sheer timidity. There is no class so timid as the man with a family, who refuses to change because he fears he will risk the small sum he has accumulated to educate the children and provide for the family in case of his death. Ninety-nine out of a hundred men in this class keep straight ahead
when they see a turning point clearly."

Not Easy to Explain.

"That boy of mine is always asking questions."

"Oh, well, perhaps he wants to learn something."

"Maybe so, but his inquisitiveness
is rather distressing to me at times."

"Yes?"
"He insists on being told what his mother means when she calls me a 'jelly fish,' a 'matrimonial misfit' and a 'human tank.'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Keep in Harness Until You Drop.

A prominent Canadian financier in his sixty-fifth year went to England to take a physical examination by a great physician. "You're as sound as a nut,"
said the doctor. "There's no reason why you shouldn't live to be a hundred—if only you don't stop working."
—Woman's Home Companion.

Getting His Orders.

"So you're summoned as a witness,
hey? Now you're keefer!"
"Keefer about what?"

"I see a judge rebuked a man for coming into court with clean hands.
Look out for that, and also be keefer
to wipe your feet."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A FIZZIE.

"My speech flatter."

"You told me you had rehearsed it until you could say it either backward
or forward."

"I had. But I started it backward and couldn't switch."—Louisville Contributor.

PUZZLED THE POET

The Societies Formed to Study
Browning's Works.

HE DIDN'T FEEL FLATTERED.

Thought It Peculiar That It Required
Organized Effort to Understand His Genius—An Afternoon Tea and a Story About Tennyson.

In her book "Pleasures and Palaces"
Princess Lazarovich-Hrobeltanovich,
formerly Ellenor Calloun of California, who as a young woman won fame
as an actress abroad, gives this story of her meeting with the poet Browning:

The revealing charm of London lay not alone in making acquaintance with those who "dwelt in marble halls" in England, but it said, they are not marble, but sculptured wood or sculptured stone and ancient tapestry, but in that vast universe of houses, big and small,
whose lights glimmer softly through hazy atmosphere or blink furiously in the fog, where the aristocrats of genius also rove. On certain days, from gray and dull, the place suddenly brightened into a new enchantment, as into my picture there came along some poet or painter, some writer of novels or other great one whose name since childhood
had made my heart flutter like the yellow poppies on the California hills.

In response to the invitation, "Won't you come in for a cup of tea with me on Wednesday afternoon?" I had gone to the house of a new acquaintance,
finding in reality a crush of fashionable
